ABOUT ASCCT

The American Society for Cellular and Computational Toxicology (ASCCT) is a scientific society dedicated to the promotion of toxicology testing and research that reduces and replaces the use of animals. The ASCCT was formed in 2010 to foster cooperation and dialogue among North American scientists, regulators, and NGOs from the pharmaceutical, chemical, pesticide, and consumer product sectors.

11th ANNUAL MEETING

The 11th annual meeting of will return in-person to build on recent momentum, featuring the latest science in New Approach Methodologies and active discussions about the implementation of new assay platforms. For early-career scientists, the meeting will offer awards and mentoring opportunities. Confirmed speakers from industry, regulatory agencies, and academia will present case studies and highlight recent 3Rs success stories. Networking sessions will be integrated throughout the program, including a welcome reception, awards dinner, and fun capacity-building activities to hone your science and communication skills.
